Missouri Flood Crest Batters Hard At Dikes

OMAHA, Nebr. (AP)—The mad Missouri threw its worst at Omaha and Council Bluffs today with an army of workers still winning the battle to hold the great river in its strait-jacket of dikes.

The river crest—stretch of maximum of water flow—was so long and so subject to fluctuations that it couldn't be pinpointed but river forecasters said the rampaging river is at cresting stage and will continue to crest all day.

At 9:30 a.m. the level was 30.24 feet, compared with the flood stage of 19. Some minor rising and falling will occur before the level begins to drop some 24 hours hence, the weather bureau said.

The predicted high had been 31.5 feet. But at this near-phenomenal level even the action of the wind can raise or lower the gauge readings by a foot or more.

The critical hours began before dawn when the slow-moving flood crest began surging into the seven-mile long funnel of sodden dikes protecting the lowlands of the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The next 48 hours may determine whether the tremendous water pressures will burst through levees and cause more agony and damage along this river which has become a monster of destruction.

All night long soldiers and civilian workers—more than 24,000 of them—told under floodlights

Senators Near End Of Probe Into North Ohio Red Activity

CLEVELAND (AP)—Senate investigators wind up a two-day inquiry into Communist activity in northern Ohio today by quizzing seven more witnesses.

The seven have been pointed out, in sworn testimony, as Communists by John E. Janowitz of Cleveland. Janowitz gathered information in Red circles as a spy for the FBI.

The witnesses, all Clevelanders, are: Fred Haug, his wife, Marie Reed Haug, James Marino, Jack Epstein, Fred Gradner, Hy Lumer and Herbert Hirschberg.

They all have been active in staff posts of the Independent United Electrical Workers. This union is the main target of a two-day hearing by the Senate subcommittee on internal security, chairmaned by Senator Arthur W. Watkins (R-Utah).

One scheduled witness, Hirschberg, already has denied he was a

Fake Kidnaping Nets Gang $15,200 From Miami Jeweler

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A wealthy Miami jeweler paid $15,200 "ransom" for return of his six-year-old son yesterday in what police called a phony kidnaping.

Daniel Richter was duped into paying $15,000 in jewels and $200 cash in what police said was "one of the cleverest and most perfectly timed" extortions in Miami.

The boy, Richard, was never actually kidnaped, police said, although Richter was convinced he was buying his son's safe return.

While police and the FBI marshaled forces to meet what they thought was a genuine kidnaping, the child was riding in a taxicab from a private school at Miami Beach to Doctor's Hospital in Coral Gables, a distance of about 12 miles.

A man who said he was "Dr. Henderson" called the Yellow Cab Co., at Miami Beach and asked them to pick up Ricky Richter at Coburn School and drive him to the hospital, purportedly to be with his "gravely ill" mother.

Almost simultaneously, a woman's voice called the school authorities and said a taxi would arrive soon to pick up the boy.

Cab driver Bert Walowitz, 24, was sent to the school and picked

WE Picketing Keeps Phone Operators Out

Striking Western Electric workers continued their picketing by districts today, this time affecting the Salem exchange of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

Ohio Bell employees, who had returned to work Monday after a week-long strike for a pay increase, refused to cross the picket line thrown up today at the Salem exchange and once again supervisory employees took over.

The Western Electric employees, also CWA-CIO unionists, picketed the Bell plant as well as the garage, E. Fourth St. and N. Lincoln.

Western Electric pickets also hampered operations in Alliance and Cleveland.

Supervisory workers took over the handling of long distance calls this morning when local operators refused to cross the picket line maintained by one man. No Western Electric employee is currently working here.

The pickets are members of the CIO Communications Workers who are on strike in 43 states against the Western Electric Co., a Bell subsidiary. Many of the WE employees normally work in Bell buildings.

Dial service for the most part has not been affected.

In Cleveland, more than 300 Ohio Bell workers waited across the street from the phone company main office on Huron Rd. after the pickets appeared.

Meanwhile, the two-week-old Western Union strike continues, over a wage dispute involving 31,000 members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers' Union (CTU). The union says its strike is "98 per cent effective." The company says it is maintaining service in more than 1,000 towns and cities. The Salem office is closed, however.

This left in a political swivel New York organization leaders who called county chairmen together today for a meeting designed to endorse W. Averell Harriman as the state's favorite son.

The expected Harriman endorsement would make the Mutual Security Administrator a holding candidate who would keep New York's 94-vote convention delegation intact for the July Chicago convention.

Beyond that, there was little expectation that the 60 year old scion of a wealthy railroad family would go anywhere on a national scale.

In view of many party politicians here, he would be lucky to land on the Democratic ticket as the nominee for Senate to oppose Republican Senator Irving M. Ives in the November election.

The confusion into which the party had been plunged by President Truman's announcement he would not seek renomination nor accept a draft may have emphasized the finessing with which Stevenson gave the Democrats a chuckling—but probably final—turn-down.

In contrast with the unsuccessful attempts of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee to arouse the party faithful, Stevenson had the banqueters holding their sides from the moment he began by saying he was making a fraudulent appearance, since he was running only for governor of Illinois, and not for president.

This left a wide field open and Vice President Barkley the 74-year-old youngster of the party, tried to step into the breach.

Barkley whipped the Democrats into a mild frenzy at the dinner by telling them their party is bound to win in November "because it deserves to win, because it is right."

Kefauver, the top man in the number of delegates pledged thus far and winner in five primaries, seemed somewhat unimpressive in a speech he read haltingly.

But while the other potential candidates sipped complacently at the flower-decked head table, the Tennessee senator busied himself circulating among the black-tied, evening-gowned guests, shaking hands and signing autograph books.

H. A. Keller Columbiana Merchant, Dies

COLUMBIANA—Harvey A. Keller, 78, a Columbiana merchant 52 years, died at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of his son, William, 218 E. Front St., following an illness of two weeks.

A life-long resident of Columbiana, Mr. Keller was born there Nov. 28, 1873, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Keller. In 1910 he married Miss Elizabeth Holderman, who died in 1915.

Before going into business for himself, Mr. Keller was employed in the Adin Greenmeyer Hardware store for 10 years and at the time of his death was the oldest merchant in Columbiana.

A member of Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church, he served as its treasurer for 25 years. He was also a member of Allen Lodge 276, F.&A.M. of Columbiana and for many years was a member of the Ohio Hardware Association. He took an active interest in civic affairs.

Survivors include two sons, William F. and George R. Keller, both of whom were associated with their father in business; one grandson and three granddaughters; a brother, Ralph Keller of Lancaster, Pa., and a sister, Mrs. Nora Landahl of Columbiana.

Private funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Warrick funeral home, with Rev. George S. Strausbaugh officiating. Interment will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 to 4:30 p.m. and 7 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Relatives Protest Sentencing Of Flier

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Spreading controversy marked the case of the bumpy air force pilot today, although Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg called it a "tempest in a teapot."

Relatives of Lt. Verne Goodwin, air force co-pilot sentenced to prison for refusal to fly, said they planned to carry his case to the President if necessary.

Goodwin was sentenced to two years in prison for refusing to fly in a C-124 transport plane to England last December. He said he feared it would have caused his wife to lose their unborn child. Mrs. Goodwin was joined by friends and relatives in protesting the prison sentence.

But at Birmingham, Adj. Gen. Walter J. Hanna of Alabama said Goodwin's sentence was too light. "If those old, worn out, gold brick pilots in Texas . . . had the proper leadership," . . . they would never have pulled their so-called sidown strike."

The mother of another air force officer charged with refusing to obey orders to fly, said in Dallas that her son is "a nervous wreck and very sick" because he is afraid to fly.

In Merced, Calif., Frank C. Hilton of Reading, Pa., national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said punishment of such men was tragic.

Airliner With 28 Reported Aboard Lost In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A non-scheduled C-46 airplane with 28 persons reported aboard was missing in Southern California today.

March Air Force Base at Riverside, and the plane was enroute from Phoenix, Ariz., to Los Angeles.

It last reported at 3:17 to the Riverside Airport, and at that time was cleared for an approach and landing at Los Angeles International Airport.

There has been no report since from the plane.

March AFB sent an amphibian search plane aloft at sunrise. Two Coast Guard planes and others from the Civil Air Patrol and the Los Angeles sheriff's Aero Squadron took to the air in a search. Murky weather hampered search operations.

March AFB information was that all aboard were civilians. The plane was believed to be one operated by North Continent Airlines, headquartered at Burbank, Calif.

The ship was due at Los Angeles at 3:30 a.m. The Civil Aeronautics Administration, said its fuel supply would have been exhausted after about 6 a.m.

State officials said the outbreak was staged in sympathy with a four-day revolt of 69 convicts who have barricaded themselves in the print shop at Trenton State Prison, holding three prison employees as hostages.

The Trenton convicts are demanding the ouster of Warden William H. Carty and an investigation of the prison. They released one ill hostage last night and arranged a mediation meeting with prison officials for today.

The Rahway rioters made a similar request for a prison probe early today after a wild outburst of breaking windows, beds and furniture in the dormitory wing.

The rioting started about 9 p. m. last night after an earlier report of "noisy and unruly" activities in the wing during the afternoon.

It was the fifth prison disturbance in New Jersey in the last three weeks.

"To the best of my knowledge the guards are safe," said Deputy State Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies F. Lovell Bixby.

"The situation is under control. We have the wing completely surrounded and we'll sit it out as we are doing in Trenton," he added.

Top Industry Officials Meet With Sawyer

Truman To Make Final Decision On How Much Steelworkers To Get

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top officials of the nation's eight largest steel companies met today with Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer for a possible final conference before an expected government-imposed wage boost for 650,000 CIO steelworkers.

The steel company presidents facing an unprecedented situation in the deadlocked wage-price dispute, were headed by Benjamin Fairless, president of the U.S. Steel Corp. Other companies represented were Republic, Bethlehem, Jones and Laughlin, Wheeling, Youngstown, Inland and American Rolling Mill.

Following the conference, Sawyer planned another meeting with Murray.

A cloak of secrecy was wrapped tightly around all aspects of the situation.

In Touch With Truman
Sawyer, nominal boss of the steel industry for the government, has been in constant touch with President Truman. It was learned. There was every indication he would confer with the President again before announcing any change in wages for Murray's steel workers.

The President said today he personally would make the final decision on how much of a wage boost the steelworkers should get.

He made that statement after Murray had said "We expect the government will impose on this industry the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board."

Any government decreed wage raise would be certain to send industry attorneys into federal court to challenge its legality and to press for damages.

Unsuccessful In Court
The industry has been unsuccessful so far in asking the courts to prevent Sawyer from taking any steps under Truman's seizure order or in proving "irreparable damages" as a result of seizure. But legal experts agree a government-imposed wage boost might give the industry a new day in court.

The wage board proposed a three-stage 17½-cent wage boost, 8½ cents in fringe benefits and the union shop—a form of compulsory unionism which would compel

Truman Implies He Could Seize Newspapers, Radio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Editors of leading American newspapers today hoped for White House clarification of President Truman's news conference remark which implied he felt he had the right to seize newspapers and radio stations, as he did the steel industry, if it would best serve the country.

Some of the editors who were among the 520 newsmen present at the conference yesterday protested afterward that, if such power exists the nation is close to dictatorship. The explosive issue was touched off when the President was asked this question:

"If it is proper to seize the steel mills, can you in your opinion, seize the newspapers and radio stations?"

Truman replied that under similar circumstances, the President of the United States has to act for whatever is for the best of the country. That is the answer, he added.

Many editors promptly interpreted this as implying, if not specifying, the power to seize newspapers and radio stations as he seized the strike-threatened steel industry last week.

Reaction of editors here attending the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, many of whom were at the news conference, ranged from cries of dictatorship to belief the answer was merely unfortunate.

Sample comments:
E. K. Gaylord of the Daily Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times: "If the President could do that (seize newspapers), we're pretty close to dictatorship."

Alexander F. Jones, ASNE president and editor of the Syracuse (N.Y.) Herald-Journal: "If he has the power to seize steel mills, newspapers and radio, I see no reason why he does not have the right to seize farms on the basis that the cost of food is too high."

Lester Markel, Sunday editor, New York Times: "The steel mills are not organs of public opinion, but the newspapers are."

Stop-Kefauver Drive Planned

Ohio Party Leaders Plug Buckley Slate

COLUMBUS (AP)—It looks like a stop-Kefauver drive!

Democratic State Chairman Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover and publicist Ted S. Alexander of party headquarters began a statewide tour this week.

They are out to line up votes in the May 6 primary election for an organization slate of delegates to the Democratic national convention in Chicago July 21.

Hanhart and Alexander took with them more than 300,000 pieces of literature for delegate candidates, county chairmen and other party leaders to distribute to voters.

The literature plugged for a slate of top-drawer Democrats pledged to former Sen. Robert J. Bulkley of Cleveland as "favorite son" candidate for president. The "favorite son" device gives delegates an open choice at the presidential nominating convention.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is contesting Bulkley for Ohio delegates pledged to himself for president. Marked success in his Ohio campaign would prove mighty embarrassing to the state organization.

At this stage, the Kefauver-Bulkley battle for delegates threatens to steal the show from Republicans in Ohio. The GOP race features another contest between Sen. Robert A. Taft and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen for delegates to the convention in Chicago July 7.

Four years ago Stassen won nine of 23 delegates in contests with Taft. Taft won 44 that year. This year Stassen is contesting Taft for 47 of Ohio's 56 GOP delegates.

But interest has waned as Stassen hit the toboggan in other primaries despite efforts to grab the coattails of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Taft has a full slate of 56 delegate candidates.

Kefauver's popularity in other state primaries has made him the current front-runner in the Democratic presidential race. His mounting strength apparently has the party's state organization worried.

Hanhart and other party leaders have studiously expressed little concern over Kefauver's Ohio chances. But events appear to have enhanced them.

Kefauver delegates gleefully claim they have the only "live" candidate for president. The appeal makes the "better bargaining position" claim of Bulkley delegates harder to sell.

Farm Group Asks Lower Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is hearing a new—and, to some members, an unbelievable—kind of farm-aid plea.

It's a plea in effect for more knowledge and less cash.

The powerful American Farm Bureau Federation is urging the law-makers to reduce farm appropriations by 200 million dollars—nearly a fifth.

Most of the reduction would be in subsidies paid directly to farmers for carrying out practices designed to protect their land against water and wind erosion.

The government, the bureau says, should place much more emphasis upon research and education to help farmers help themselves and less upon paying them for doing something they should do anyway.

The bureau does not want the government to limit its activities to research and education alone. It favors keeping price support programs—not at levels designed to assure farmers a profit, but to protect them against financial disaster.

the former Ohio National Guard division which is in the advanced individual training stage here.

Clark said the 37th would become "combat-prepared in short order if it were not interfered with by levies of personnel to go to Korea."

Congress Out To Lunch?

Criticism of Congress for failure to straighten out the steel problem in jig time is unfair.

Congress did not know what President Truman was going to do until he did it. Mr. Truman, himself, did not know what he was going to do until he did it.

Congress then could do nothing to undo what had been done. It was caught in the same dilemma which has plagued the Republicans in Congress; it was confronted with a "fait accompli" which it could not undo.

Neither could it foresee with certainty what
Mr. Truman's next move in the same direction might be. And it could not legally bar him from making any move whatever in that direction, because laws must be left flexible enough to provide a reasonable amount of executive lea-way.

Nevertheless, Congress does have a job to do. It must rationalize by passage of a law a violent reaction from the presidential order to seize the steel industry in order to appease the labor union which holds the bargaining rights in the steel industry.

It must make as certain as it can that no
executive again can override congressional authority by citing "inherent powers" to do a thing which no executive should be able to do without clearly defined statutory authority.

It must do what is necessary to preserve
a government of law from the kind of threat which has been raised by Harry Truman and his power-happy advisers. Congress cannot undo the damage done by the steel seizure, but unless it wants to be "out to lunch" when needed on the job it can avert further damage of the same kind.

Think Straight, Legalists

The steel seizure incident is headed for the courts. It has all the earmarks of a constitutional question.

The probable shape of the question is whether or not the federal government can set the terms of a business operation by executive edict.
A further question which also may arise is whether or not damages can be recovered from the government if the edict causes damages.

The legalists had better think straight, because there might come a day when government would use a bad precedent to seize a labor union and force its members to sustain financial damages. Obviously, Congress never would authorize such a seizure, just as Congress never would authorize wanton seizure of an industry.

But if legal precedent for seizure by executive edict had been established, Congress might be deprived of its jealously-guarded power to maintain itself as an integral part of the system of checks and balances whereby despotism is made impossible in the United States.

Nothing could be more shortsighted than to concentrate on the immediate circumstances of the steel seizure at the risk of forgetting the danger of a precedent. In its grasping for power, the federal government will not stop at the railroads, the steel industry and whatever victim happens to be next in line.

It's Different Now

This current hue and cry for I-dotting and t-crossing by Gen. Eisenhower on every conceivable public issue is nonsense.

Much as we value the fact Sen. Taft, the other strong contender for the Republican party's presidential nomination, is not asking his supporters to buy a pig in a poke, it is only fair to admit that Gen. Eisenhower cannot be expected to cover the ground in a few weeks
that the Ohioan has been covering since 1939.
Gen. Eisenhower is a novice in these things.

If Sen. Taft could go back over some of that ground in 1952, he would take advantage of second thought on some issues, moreover. It is a good device in politics to beat a contender
over the head with his record, just as it's a good device to demand that he take a fixed position on things which haven't happened yet. Yet, some of the people advising Eisenhower to remain silent do not hesitate to dig back through Taft's record and exhume everything which raises a doubt.

Gen. Eisenhower should recognize that his decision to come home from SHAPE and lend his presence to the attempt to nominate him for the presidency has made a difference in his status.

No reasonable person expects him to go down the line with a statement on every public issue, including some which would be booby-trapped. But all reasonable persons interested in presidential politics would like to see the general get on a political footing. He should begin to assert himself on some of the issues of the times.

This would not be out of line with his inactive duty status. Warmed-over material from the general's speeches (all of them given, by the way, while he was a member of the armed forces) is doing him more harm than good.

An Ohio man picked a chicken in 40 seconds. We'll give him a blue ribbon when he can do it with a duck.

The Unexpected Sometimes Happens

The American people are getting accustomed now to something many citizens didn't realize a few weeks ago—they are learning that the results of the state primaries
are by no means conclusive.
When Senator Taft wins a primary as he did in Illinois, the Eisenhower supporters get a bit dejected.
Then, when the general comes out on top as he did in New Jersey, the Taft managers by their comments do everything they can to minimize the importance of the victory.

Actually the preconvention campaign is running true to form.
The majority of the delegates will do the nominating, and very few states have primaries. The battle for prestige in the eyes of the public and the battle of interpretations as to what this or that primary means continues as always.

THE CONTEST in the Republican party is by no means settled for anybody. Even those who think that neither Taft nor Eisenhower will have a majority and that the Taft strength will swing to General McArthur haven't anything to base this view on except the tendency in past deadlocks to seek a compromise candidate.

Issues and situations often change
the whole picture. Back in 1912, Champ Clark, then speaker of the House of Representatives, had the Democratic nomination apparently sewed up and the followers of Woodrow Wilson were fighting an uphill battle. It was almost on the eve of the convention that William Jennings Bryan interposed his issue of progressivism versus conservatism inside the party and the political war started to fly. The Clark strength was prevented from growing and in the end couldn't achieve the necessary two-thirds.

There is no parallel development in the offing just now but events sometimes make issues. Thus, if General Eisenhower were in the United States today, he would have a hard time refraining from comment on the seizure by President Truman of the steel industry. Senator Taft is in an advantageous position in being able to dramatize this issue by statements on the floor of the senate.

IF THE industrial situation becomes more serious in the future
than it has been, the chances of involving all Republican candidates in it will increase. It is a basic and fundamental controversy. The Democrats are trying to say it's just an issue of greed by steel companies or refusal to pay higher wages, but the fact is that it is an issue involving usurpation of constitutional power.

No matter what benevolent objective is being sought, the argument that the end justifies the means is not persuasive. It has been worn threadbare by the Fair Deal
now as well as by the New Deal.

The Democratic Party's situation
grows no better due to Mr.
Truman's blunders. Having declined to accept renomination, the President is not helping his party
by his recent behavior on public policies.

The face that Governor Stevenson, of Illinois, has decided not to run is significant. Would anybody turn down a party nomination if victory were assured? The friends of Governor Stevenson who want him to continue as the chief executive in Illinois
would be happy, too, to have him become President, but what they really fear is that they may lose a Democratic governor and fail to elect a Democratic president.

WHO THEN, will take the risks of a Democratic nomination? Is Averell Harriman being seriously advanced by New York Democrats? Why do the political machines turn their backs on Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, who obviously has strength with the Democratic voters? Who else have the Democrats available? Vice President Barkley is in every sense except one a good candidate. He is an experienced legislator and a man of ability, familiar with national problems. But, despite his youthful appearance and vigor, the rank and file of the delegates will hesitate to name him because of his age—and unless MacArthur,
who is 72, is named on the Republican ticket, it isn't likely that Barkley will be chosen on the Democratic side.

The possibility still exists that the Democrats will turn to Truman in desperation. There are many Democratic officeholders who actually believe Truman's campaigning won for him in 1948 and that "he can do it again." As the Democratic aspirants are looked over in the next few weeks, many of the party managers will say to themselves they could at least nominate Truman and ask him to run again. Maybe if Taft is the nominee Mr. Truman might change his mind. That is the impression often conveyed in the past by his intimates. The unexpected sometimes happens in politics—just when everybody is certain it can't happen.

Serum to Nome

By TRUMAN TWILL

While swishing through an April downpour on a hurry-up trip to the drugstore one evening recently, it became clear that medical history must still be in the making.

Our mission was to pick up a prescription which had been filled
on the family doctor's telephoned order. Medicos are not summoned casually in RFD.
Though necessity has not presented itself, a house call would be a few steps short of calling a mortician.

The prescription was for some anti-biotics—that apparently endless succession of substances, each better than its predecessor, which ferret out germs in their hiding places and kill them without a struggle.

These may be the most confidence-inspiring cure-alls which ever have been made available to humans in dire distress, though that could be argued. What with one thing and another, we preferred the sulfas.

While opening our hearts on this matter, we will confess that even the sulfas—the first of the modern cure-alls—never offered as bright a hope of speedy recovery
as the old family doctor back home with his line of bottled and packaged nostrums. Even when we acquired enough working knowledge of the world to know what his secret was, we continued to envy ourself the comfort which used to come out of old doc's satchel.

There is no such comfort in the stuff Science, with a capital S,
has made available to the afflicted.
Despite the demonstrable fact the stuff can kill bugs miraculously under the right circumstances, it has the weakness of being touchy about the circumstances. The patient never is sure he can qualify for the miracle.

Science will have to forgive us
if we long, instead, for treatments of canned mud, poultices prepared from family recipes, lump sugar dipped in kerosene, aromatic salves and sweet oils.

The prescription writers will have to tolerate us if we wish for someone who would pour out a bottle of tonic from the jug and sack up half a hundred pills with hieroglyphical directions for their use. A tsp. of tonic before eating and a brace of pills before sleeping used to bring off some first-rate miracles, too.

This passed through our mind
while racing against time to fetch home a batch of anti-biotics. We thought of all the people who had raced against time to fetch home
miraculous substances which would save life—and of all the substances which had saved life
just in our own lifetime.

There always has been a life-saving illusion, even when the

"serum rushed to Nome" was nothing more mysterious than a bottle of aromatic salve sold under a well-known brand name.

But the illusion used to be more convincing. The miracle always was imminent.

In this instance, there was no miracle. The anti-biotics might as well have been a poultice composed of flaxseed and honey, for all the good they did. But in the flaxseed and honey era, the good
was done in the patient's mind,
which too much knowledge now
has rendered immune to healing.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why is Boxing Day so called?

A—Boxing Day is strictly British. It refers to the day after Christmas, on which boxes are presented are given to errand boys, postmen, etc.

Q—Which bird sews its nest
together?

A—The tailorbirds of India and Africa build their nests of large leaves. The nests are shaped like cups. Several leaves may be sewn together by strips of long grasses.

Much More of the Same

So, We Are Liars!

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

On June 21, 1949, President Harry Truman wrote to his former Secretary of State, James Byrnes,
as follows:

"Dear Jim:
"I appreciated very much your note of the 17th, enclosing me a copy of the letter to Drew Pearson. Since I never read Mr. Pearson or listen to him I didn't know his statement had appeared. I don't think he ever told the truth intentionally.

"I never read or listen to Walter Winchell, Westbrook Pegler, George Sokolsky, John O'Donnell,
or any of the liars for the simple reason that it just stirs you up for no good purpose. When history is written the facts will speak for themselves.

"It was always customary for the State Department to accuse the White House of having leaks and for the White House to accuse the State Department of having leaks. I don't know which was correct—maybe both.

"Sincerely yours,
"s— Harry Truman"

I had not known until this morning, when I write of this,
that the President held me in such esteem. I wonder how, if he never read or listened to me, he knows that I am a liar. Also, it would be interesting to have a bill of particulars—precisely what did I write in 1949 that bothered the President so much?

I DO NOT KNOW how Pegler
or Winchell or O'Donnell feels about it, but I am pleased that Harry Truman spelled my name correctly. It is a difficult name.
Unless a person sees my kind of a name often, he does not readily remember it and either calls me
by the name of a more famous aviation engineer or an even more famous conductor. Thanks for the compliment, Mr. President!

I looked up my records to discover what I might have written on June 20 or 21, 1949 to call me to the President's attention. On June 20, I wrote an article on Whittaker Chambers, in which I called attention to the probability of Alger Hiss's guilt.

For may recall that President Truman called the charges against Alger Hiss a red herring, but I had already then for 10 years been writing about the dangers of the Harold Ware Cell in Washington to which Hiss belonged. Admittedly, I wrote with caution because as the Administration was protecting its Communists, I had to avoid libel.

ON THE RECORD, Alger Hiss
was convicted after investigation by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Grand Jury
proceedings and two public trials.
Again, on the record, Harry Truman talked nonsense when he referred to the Hiss matter as a red herring.

As regards the article of June 21, 1949, I wrote on a reader's judgment that Senator Hickenlooper was smearing Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lili-enthal. I said:

"Congress may sometimes hit out blindly in the course of an inquiry and hurt an innocent person. On balance, this evil has been trifling, except for the particular individual, compared with the great good done by Congressional committees."

On the record, Mr. Truman has fought with every Congress, the 79th, the 80th, the 81st, and the 82nd, since he has been President. He apparently assumes that the President is the leader of Congress and that that body must obey his wishes and whims.

HE REGARDS himself as the smartest man that ever lived, except General George Marshall, who is the greatest American that ever lived. I do not know how he places Dean Acheson in relationship to himself and George Marshall.

In this same letter that Harry Truman wrote to James Byrnes,
he added a postscript in his own hand. Concerning this postscript, Secretary Byrnes writes in his article in "Collier's" magazine. The postscript reads:

"Since your Washington & Lee
speech I'm sure I know how Cassar felt when he said 'Et tu Brute.'
Byrnes replied that he was no
Brutus and that Truman was no Caesar, which you can take any way you like. Brutus stabbed Cassar in the back, an event which gave Shakespeare a chance to write a great play and Mark Antony a wonderful speech that schoolboys used to learn by heart,
before progressive education abolished memory.

Harry Truman, who boasts a phenomenal knowledge of history,
may recall what happened to Rome under Caesar's successors
—it ceased to be a republic and went slowly to hell.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

The Doctor Answers

One of the most common complaints of the later years of life is creaking and grating in the knees, sometimes associated with discomfort.

Q—Of late I have noticed a definite creak in my knees when going up and down stairs. Would this be a lack of vitamins, or a more serious thing?—Mrs. D.

A—In all probability, this is a degenerative condition in the knee joint, probably not related to vitamin lack. It is not serious except for the discomfort which it may cause, though it sometimes goes under the name of degenerative arthritis or osteo-arthritis. It is harmful for a person with this sort of condition to carry too much weight. A certain amount of relief can often be obtained by wearing elastic bandages and by other measures.

Q—My two-year-old son is seriously bothered with constipation,
and my sister wonders if this is because he wears overall pants
with elastic which leaves a mark around his abdomen.—Mrs. F.E.G.

A—It is not wise for anyone to wear something too tight around the abdomen, but it seems doubtful that this could cause constipation in a two-year-old boy. A more likely cause is his diet, and of course habit plays a part also.
This should be thoroughly discussed with your son's doctor.

Q—I have a fungus growth under my toenails which raises the nails and becomes unpleasant, although I keep them trimmed and the tops scraped off. What should be done?—H. O.

A—A fungus infection of the nails is often extremely difficult to cure. A person who has this unpleasant condition should be under the care of a skin specialist who may want to give X-ray treatments as well as employ other measures. Most dermatologists are frank in admitting that this is one of their most difficult problems.

One Man's Opinion

BY WALTER KIERNAN

I hear the Washington Senators have asked Mr. Truman to seize the league and have Charlie Sawyer award them a place in the First Division.

The Senators don't have the best club in baseball but they have all the good fans except Laraine Day and they should be able to get her if the President will just use his "inherent powers."

"Inherent powers" means
"you'll go crazy looking for this one in the Constitution but you won't find it."

Much has been made of the fact that Mr. Truman can pitch a baseball with either hand but the steel makers say that's nothing to the way he fast-balled
them no hands.

They're so angry with him that when baseball time rolled around one fellow said "how do you know
he's going to open the season . . .
he may just seize it."

When the umpire came out somebody said "Look! Charlie Sawyer, ready to be neutral when he gets the nod."

Folks didn't have to worry about their hands getting cold this past winter. Prices kept them in their pockets most of the time.

Refugee Has Led Alger-Type Life

NEW YORK

Horatio Alger should have known this kid.
"One thing I like about myself is I am not nervous," said tousle-headed 12-year-old Voytek Dolinski.

The youngster was speaking of his role in the Broadway play, "Flight Into Egypt." He got the part a week after he landed in the United States from England with his family last January. Young Voytek won praise from the critics as one of the best boy actors to hit Broadway in years.

He spent his infancy with his mother in a Russian labor camp in Siberia and the next three wartime years traveling over three continents to safety in England. Voytek was tailor-made for his role as a young refugee in the play.

HE TAKES HIS success in stride. "I guess I'll have to be an actor now. I had wanted to be a doctor."

His voice is clear and resonant. Educated in English schools he speaks the King's English with a nicety and crispness that would do an Oxford man proud.

"The English language is what they speak in England," said the Polish-born Voytek. "In America it's more slang."

His success story is in the best Alger tradition. He simply answered a newspaper advertisement for a boy actor who could speak English with a middle-European accent. He won out over 300 applicants. The only acting he'd ever done was in a few children's plays in school.

AMERICA IS HOME to him now. "America is not one country, it is all countries. We are not foreigners in America because all Americans are foreigners."

Voytek is a slender, good-looking youngster with big, deep-blue eyes and a mop of hair that tumbles down to his eyebrows. Dressed as he was in a striped turtleneck sweater and blue jeans, he could be the kid in the next block.

In many ways he's pretty much of a paradox. He has a bright-eyed intelligence and a kind of unthinking poise and maturity that's startling. He also has a stack of comic books and plays with a mechanical gasoline station
toy with a kid's delight.

Voytek hasn't gotten used to some ways of American kids yet. Baseball is too slow and he's already tired of playing cowboy. Ice cream and candy are too sweet. He was raised on a sugar-short diet.

ABOUT GIRLS he said boyishly, "There's not much in them. They're OK when they're OK." Then he added quickly, "I'm not a chap who runs around with girls."

When the Russians came into Poland in 1940, five-weeks-old Voytek and his mother were sent to Siberia. Mrs. Maria Dolinski's husband, Jerzy, had gone to England to fight with the RAF.

When the Russians became allies the very next year, the father got a visa enabling them to come to England. Their flight around the perimeter of war included not only Egypt but also Iran, Iraq, Palestine, South Africa, Scotland
and finally England.

Voytek attended four schools in Scotland and England. A year ago when the family was living on a chicken farm in Lincolnshire, England, he won a scholarship.

"The intelligence test was jolly easy," he said, toying with a cowboy gun. "They got rid of the silly ones that way."

Truman Lied, Byrnes Claims

President's Charges
In Book Are Denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — James F. Byrnes today accused President Truman of spreading falsehoods about him and of submitting "fiction for history" in describing U.S.-Russian relations in the dangerous months of the developing cold war.

The South Carolina governor, who was Truman's secretary of state from 1945 until early 1947, replied in a scathing article published in Collier's magazine to statements Truman made about him in the recent book "Mr. President."

Byrnes went beyond denying—as he has done before—that he got a personal dressing down from Truman right after the Moscow conference of 1945. By Truman's account, the President read Byrnes a memo saying he was tired of "babbling the Soviets." Byrnes said he never heard of any such memo, and then:

1.—He charged that Truman was quick to use "strong language" against the Russians but "he did not provide the iron fist" to back up his words.

2.—He said "the Soviets will welcome" Truman's statement that this country was "almost forced to agree" at the Potsdam conference eight days after Truman became President—by Russian occupation of east Prussia and Polish partitioning of Germany east of the Oder River.

Byrnes charged that the U.S. was "almost forced to agree" to the Potsdam conference eight days after Truman became President—by Russian occupation of east Prussia and Polish partitioning of Germany east of the Oder River.

Flying Saucers Reported Over Atom Test Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—A flight of flying saucers near the Nevada test site, where important new atomic tests are being made, has been reported by five men at Nellis Air Force Base, near Las Vegas.

Those who said they saw the saucers are T/Sgt. Orville Lawson, Rudy Toner, foreman of the sheet metal shop and shop workers R. K. Van Houtin, Edward Gregory and Charles Ruliffson.

The men said they counted 18 circular, dull-white objects streaking across the sky north of the air base yesterday.

They were flying on an easterly course which apparently had taken them directly over or very close to the atomic weapons proving grounds.

The objects—which the men declared definitely were neither planes nor observation balloons—flew in an irregular formation. One of them was off to the right, moving with a zig-zag motion.

The men estimated they were 40,000 feet high and traveling at a speed of at least 1,200 miles an hour. They left no smoke or vapor trail.

Van Houtin saw them first and called the attention of the other men to them. The objects were in sight for about half a minute before they disappeared to the east.

FEET ARE AS DISTINCTIVE AS FACES.—The proper type of shoe can work wonders in your general appearance and well-being. It can make you look taller, if you are short; cut inches off your height, if you are quite tall; improve your figure by giving you a proper stance. If you have a high-instep foot, choose a good-looking leather pump, with low-cut sides (left). A shoe which comes up too high on the sides will pinch the instep. Tall and short step out for spring in smart all-leather numbers with medium heels which are ideal for both (center). The short girl gets an added lift while her tall friend dramatizes her height, without getting into the stratosphere. The mudguard effect on the suede shoes worn by the tall girl provides interesting detail on what is basically a classic pump. The sidevamp stripping on her companion's shoes gives a dramatic line. A high-cut modified oxford furnishes comfortable support for the girl with a low instep (right), as well as smart fashion wear. Before you step into spring, be sure you are wearing shoes that suit your feet.

Wesleyan Class Fashion Show Displays Clothes Of Old Days

A parade of fashions, in the rustling black silks of by-gone days to the snowy white wedding dress of Mrs. J. Reid Scott, was presented to the Wesleyan Class of the Methodist Church and their guests Wednesday evening at the church.

Mrs. Maude Jones gave an interesting history, with comments, as gowns were shown. Mrs. Frank Stoudt was the piano accompanist. Mrs. Richard Stamp and her 4-H girls assisted in the showing of these styles, dating from 1820 to the present. Dixie Lee Wilde, in a ruffled brown silk taffeta dress, sang "In An Old Fashioned Garden" in keeping with the program.

Among interesting costumes was a man suit modeled by Mrs. Vernon Broomall. It was white linen with an interesting design used by plantation managers in the 1820's.

Miss Elizabeth Hartman wore the dignified 1885 black velvet basque of Miss Eleanor McMurray's mother. A skirt and shawl 125 years old, owned by the mother of C. B. Hunt was worn by Mrs. John Litty.

Mrs. Frank Stoerckel Jr. furnished several costumes. One from Italy, modeled by Miss McMurray, used an amusing straight line effect. Mrs. Fred Koenreich wore an ornate hat and her wedding gown of Irene Castle design. The combination amused the audience.

Among old shawls shown were those of Martha Stanton, first school teacher in Salem, of Mrs. William Silver and Mrs. Hunt.

Miss Bessie Cook, Miss Anna Cook and Mrs. M. P. Livingston were among the ones that donated styles for the revue.

At the table lighted by two handsome kerosene lamps and set with Mrs. Stoerckel's antique silver service acorn pattern, Mrs. Guy Byers and Mrs. Stoerckel presided.

In keeping with the program theme, Mrs. Byers chose a handsome gown that was worn to President McKinley's Inaugural Ball by Mrs. Frances Sharp Ellis and Mrs. Stoerckel wore a wedding dress dating back to 1839.

Also adorning the table was antique teapots, hobnail spoon handles and lamps. Mrs. J. U. Thomas, Mrs. L. Coffee and Mrs. Paul Yates arranged the table.

There were 80 members and guests present at the show and Mrs. H. W. Reeves led the devotions. The committee in charge was Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Yates, Miss Martha McCready, Mrs. Richard Wilde, Mrs. T. E. Miller, Mrs. Coffee and Mrs. Edward Alexander.

It is the annual custom of the millinery industry to select an Easter hat for the first lady.

Truman Denounces Budget Chopping

WASHINGTON — President Truman said today the nation still is "in deadly peril" from the threat of Soviet aggression, and he declared Congress will invite a Russian attack if it slashes military and foreign aid spending.

Hitting sharply at "economy" forces in Congress, Truman said the movement to cut defense spending below his budget estimates is politically inspired and "our national defense can't wait on politics."

The President asserted in an address prepared for the dedication of a new headquarters for Amvets, a national veterans' organization, that cuts already voted by the House "will upset the planning and the scheduling of our entire defense program" if they become law.

"This is not economy," Truman went on. "It is the worst kind of waste. It is terribly dangerous. . . . This may be an election year here but the Kremlin is not going to take a vacation simply because of our politics. If we weaken, the Kremlin will see a chance to move in."

Truman centered his fire on the House-approved ceiling of 46 billion dollars for defense department spending in the next fiscal year.

Lisbon School Board Delays Bus Action

LISBON — John Chillik, clerk, said no action was taken by the Board of Education when bids for the purchase of four school busses were opened Thursday afternoon. The board delayed action, pending investigation on some of the bids.

Seven bids were received, with several companies only bidding on one of the four busses. The board sought bids on a 47-passenger bus, two 53-passenger and one 59-passenger busses.

The board has been using busses on a contract basis but voted recently to purchase its own.

Illegal Wiring Blamed For $41,600,000 Fire

TOKYO — Police today blamed Tottori's disastrous $41,600,000 fire on a short circuit caused by illegal tapping of electric wires. They jailed three suspects.

The 12-hour fire left 25,000 homeless and injured 120 persons, but no one was killed. An estimated 5,000 homes were destroyed.

The government allotted $1,100,000 to help rebuild the southwestern Honshu Island city of 61,000. An additional $69,000 will be spent on temporary shelters.

The fire was the worst in Japan since World War II and was officially described as the third largest since 1926.

Moscow's Performance Never Matches Russian Propaganda

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(Last of a Series)

LONDON (AP)—The towers of the Kremlin throw long shadows. Tight-knit party organizations, all cast in a single mold, all tied to the strings of the master puppeteers in Moscow, work incessantly and unquestioningly to glorify Stalin.

From the jungles of Malaya to the streets of London; from the desert sands of Africa to the sunlit boulevards of Paris, Communists are tied together by a single goal and a common discipline. The goal: To reshape civilization in the image of the Soviet Union. The discipline: Everything for Moscow.

This is what the West faces. More and more, diplomats in this part of the world are expressing the opinion that the people of the West must recognize as a fact that the Stalinists are strong, that they are organized, that they constitute a powerful menace to western ways of life.

REALIZING THIS, say these diplomats, the West will make itself that much stronger, will know where and how to counter Stalin's maneuvers.

In the military field, much has been done already, and there is much more to be done. But even now there is a noticeable rise in confidence in Western Europe. If the showdown should come, say military men, the West could give a good account of itself along the Rhine while its air power raced into action.

But how about the propaganda field?

Communist propaganda everywhere has been on the offensive. It has been successful in many instances. The technique of the big lie, learned from Joseph Goebbels, is being used to an extent Goebbels never dreamed of.

Appeals to self interest are carefully launched and have brought results. The International Economic Conference in Moscow, just ended, served the Kremlin well. Moscow's bait of profits has been a strong lure. Moscow has looked at all the sore points in the West and promised relief. Is there a slump in Britain's textile industry? Moscow indicates she will buy textiles. Is there unemployment in Italy? Moscow indicates full scale trade with the East will ease that.

MOSCOW'S performance never matches her propaganda. But the propaganda is aggressive. Wherever there is discontent, wherever there is human misery, wherever there is fear or suffering or hunger, the agents of Moscow are active. They are schooled in capitalizing on human ills, trained to turn despair into a bloody political weapon, intent on answering prayers for deliverance with the shackles of dictatorship.

Can the West seize and hold the propaganda offensive? There are some concrete proposals at hand, and some concrete action designed to snatch the initiative from the Communists.

The International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU), the western workers' answer to the communist world federation of trade unions (WFTU), is readying a full blast campaign which will take the issue of freedom or slavery directly into the factories and to mass groups throughout Europe and the Middle East.

An international organization of counter-propaganda has grown up from the efforts of one Frenchman, Jean-Paul David, to catch Moscow off base.

Radio Free Europe and Rias, the American radio in Berlin, have highly effective programs.

Responsible British sources are suggesting a general allied council to counter the Cominform, to anticipate its moves and to bring Cominform operations clearly into the light of day.

East Goshen

The remodeling program for the East Goshen Friends' Church is nearing completion, including the plastering of the ceiling, painting of the walls of the auditorium, revarnishing the pews and woodwork, laying the carpet over the entire auditorium floor and laying asphalt tile blocks in the vestibule. There is still some work to be done in the rest rooms and basement.

Easter was the first day the auditorium was used after the laying of the carpet. The attendance was 175 for Sunday School and 185 for the worship service.

Friday evening the Semper Fidelis Sunday School Class of the East Goshen church will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Malmesbury.

Conference to Meet

Twenty from the East Goshen church are planning to attend the banquet at the Youth Conference at the Cleveland Bible College Friday evening and six will attend the full time April 18-20.

The Charles Matti Men's Missionary Group and the Elsie Matti Missionary Circle are planning a joint Father - Son and Mother - Daughter banquet to be held at Smith Grange Hall Wednesday at 7 p.m. Charles and Elsie Matti, returned missionaries from China, and Siegfried Buss will be the speakers. A male quartet from the East Goshen church will furnish music.

The Elsie Matti Missionary Circle met with Mrs. John Reynolds Wednesday. Mrs. Joanna Dugan was the leader.

Mrs. Blanche Thompson and family, in company of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Thompson and two daughters of Sebring and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kent of Streetsboro were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Knopp of Calla, Sunday.

Sabres Down 1 Red MIG, Damage Two

SEOUL (AP)—Communist MIG fighters swooshed across the Yalu River from Manchuria today for the first time in five days and tangled with U. S. Sabre jets in five separate battles.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its airmen shot down one Red jet and damaged two.

Allied losses, if any, are reported weekly.

The five actions pitted 58 Russian-type MIGs against 70 Sabres. American jets seldom outnumber the Reds.

Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers, hampered all week by bad weather, were attacking enemy rail facilities five miles north of Kwakson, about 45 miles from the Manchurian border, when five flights of MIGs appeared.

On the ground, Communist patrols continued to feel out United Nations defenses. They concentrated on the western and central fronts.

Both company and union spokesmen said the walkout yesterday was unauthorized. Negotiations for a new contract have been under way for several months.

all workers to join a union within a specified time.

The highest offer industry has publicly made was 12 1/2 cents in straight wages and about five cents in fringe benefits. Most of the industry holds the union shop unacceptable.

Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall has said the industry is entitled to a maximum $3 a ton price boost. The industry contends it needs four times that much to offset the cost of the wage board's proposals.

In an industry statement last night, Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel Corp., accused Arnall of "using his governmental office as a vehicle for anti-industry propaganda."

In New York, a steel industry spokesman described as "just another red herring" CIO President Murray's charge that "the taxpayers' money is paying" for advertisements criticizing government seizure of steel plants. He said the charge was intended to "becloud" the issues.

Feller To Hurl In Tribe Home Opener Today

Indians' Star Faces Detroit

Will Oppose Ted Gray; Cleveland Wins 5-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—Opera lovers enjoy the melodies of La Boheme at Municipal Auditorium today. A few blocks away, at Municipal Stadium, the music is a little noisier.

It's "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" for some 55,000 hot dog munching supporters of the Cleveland Indians in the home opener against Detroit.

High on the baseball billing is Bob Feller, the mightiest Tribesman of them all, opposing Ted Gray of Cleveland's traditional rivals. Then too, the weatherman promises fair skies and a high of 72 degrees.

FELLER WON 22 AND lost 8 last year and had a 3.49 earned run average. He whipped the Tigers four times in three tries, whereas Gray dropped three decisions to Cleveland. The Tribe finished with a 17-5 edge over the Tigers.

This is Feller's first outing of the season.

The Indians swept their three-game opening series with the Chicago White Sox 5-3 yesterday with a 17-hit barrage off five pitchers.

Luke Easter poled the most sensational clout—a 425-foot blast in the fifth for his first homer of the season. Bob Avila hit three times in four chances.

CLEVELAND HAD ITS big inning in the second. Dale Mitchell singled and stole second. Boone, Mike Garcia, Harry Simpson and Avila followed with singles for three runs. Easter flailed out to retire the side.

The Chicagoans scored two of their runs in the seventh on two of Cleveland's three errors. Boone bobbled Chico Carrasquel's grounder after Hector Rodriguez walked. Then Avila fumbled Minnie Mino's bounce, and Rodriguez and Carrasquel ran home.

Garcia permitted only seven hits, fanned six and walked two. Jim Fridley, the rookie out-fielder whose first big league homer gave the Indians a 1-0 victory Wednesday, felt a bit queasy about the stomach yesterday. He recovered in time to finish the game, however.

Fridley blames it on either a change in climate or the change in water.

In Chicago, Manager Al Lopez, said he was happy his Indians are favored to win the American League pennant.

Lopez predicted a season bag of 85 wins for the big four of his pitching staff. Early Wynn, Bob Lemon, Garcia and Feller won a total of 79 games last year but the Indians finished in second place.

"It's possible we'll have even better pitching this season than last," said Lopez.

Lopez figures that Lemon is the best pitcher in the league and will win 23 games.

"Feller," he continued, "should be good for at least 18. He won 22 last year, you know. I think Garcia will get 22 and Wynn is good for about the same. That's about 85 victories those four fellows can give us."

"Now if we can keep our hitting average as a team—say between .270 and .295 as a unit—we'll be in easy."

Manager Rogers Hornsby Has St. Louis Browns Fired Up

(By The Associated Press)

"There's only one place to finish and that's first."

Rogers Hornsby made this sage comment before the season opened. His precocious St. Louis Browns act like he meant it. Running neck and neck with Cleveland for the American League lead, they sound like the big noise of early season.

If the Browns keep winning when they get home, owner Bill Veeck can forget any more free beer nights for the customers. The long-abused Brownie fans float in a purple haze of contentment after three straight wins.

LET CLEVELAND AND Brooklyn, the pre-season favorites, terrify the opposition with 17-hit binges. The spunky little Brownies make five hits do the same work.

First Ned Garver. Then Tommy Byrne. And now Bob Cain, going the route against Detroit for a club that got only one complete game in three from 13 pitchers last season.

Cain, acquired from Detroit in a seven-man deal during spring training, rubbed it in yesterday by whipping his old Tiger mates, 3-1. Wandering Bob allowed nine hits but most of them were harmless singles.

That new Brownie lineup, with only one third of the '51 personnel still on the roster, ruined Hal Newhouse's bright comeback hopes. Prince Hal, making his first start since last July 14, threw home run balls to Les Moss and Bob Nieman in the last two innings that sank the Tigers.

CLEVELAND WASTED many of its 17 hits in running over Chicago for a third straight triumph, 5-3. Despite the heavy barrage that included a 425-foot homer by Luke Easter in the fifth, the Tribe gave Mike Garcia only a one-run lead going to the ninth.

Bobby Shantz, smallest pitcher in the league, beat the world champion New York Yankees with his left arm and bat to give Philadelphia a 3-1 decision over Eddie Lopat. The five-foot-six pitcher scattered nine hits and gave his team the lead run with a single in the fourth, breaking a 1-1 tie.

The Boston "rookie" Sox turned the heat on Washington for a 9-2 romp with freshman Faye Throneberry hitting a bases-loaded home run off Bob Johnson in the six-run sixth. Throneberry, just advanced to the Sox roster before opening day, smashed a two-strike, no-ball pitch into the Senators' bullpen in centerfield.

BROOKLYN CONTINUED to pound the ball as though Manager Chuck Dressen expected to open up his 13½ game lead by Decoration Day. In three wins at Boston, the Dodgers hammered 48 hits for a team batting average of .378. Yesterday Brooklyn won 8-2.

Connie Ryan, an ex-Giant, slashed a two-run homer in the 11th inning to give his new Philadelphia Phil pals a 5-3 victory over the New York Giants. Del Ennis' spectacular barehanded catch of Willie Mays' screamer saved reliever Jim Konstanty in the 10th.

St. Louis was dumped from the unbeaten class by Pittsburgh's rookie-studded Pirates, 5-3. Three Cardinal errors and Peanuts Lowrey's tumble that ruined a promising rally helped Lefty Joe Murr register his first big league win. Ralph Kiner had three of the six Pirate hits as they pinned the loss on rookie reliever Eddie Yuhas.

Pinch hitter Lowrey fell down on the base lines to break up a threatened "big" inning for the Cards when they collected four hits but only two runs in the seventh.

Kenny Raffensberger, who always finds Chicago an easy mark, shut out the Cubs with five hits for Cincinnati's 3-0 edge.

Today brings the "second" openers when the clubs who were on the road Tuesday show their stuff before the home fans.

Olympic Road To Wrestling Fame Tough

AMES, Ia (AP)—The battle for the big zero score and a place on the 1952 U. S. Olympic wrestling team invading Helsinki this summer is the toughest in years, says the man who knows—the wrestler himself.

As the final trials moved into the third and fourth rounds today the original field of 174 competitors has slimmed down to 123 after the elimination of 51 men yesterday.

Gene Gibbons of Cleveland, O., was one of the leaders in the 174-pound class. He pinned Ralph Gay of Texas A. and M. in 1:41. Bob Nellis of Miami (O.) University was eliminated by Murray Edelman of New York City in a 136.5-pound match. Nellis was pinned in 4:05.

Bill Miller of the University of Toledo was pinned in 3:30 by Frank Bettucci of Cornell University of Toledo was eliminated by John Hale, U.S. Navy. Hale won a decision in a 160.5-pound match.

Yankee Clipper's Top Thrills

DiMaggio's 56-Game Hitting Streak Is Top Thrill Of Brilliant Career

By FRANK ECK

(Editor's note: This is the first of six series on DiMaggio's top thrills of his baseball career in 13 seasons with the New York Yankees.)

NEW YORK — Hitting in 56 straight games in 1941 was Joe DiMaggio's biggest baseball thrill. The record has never been approached and may never be beaten.

On the way to the record Joe passed the great George Sisler's mark of 41 straight games with the St. Louis Browns. Then he beat the National League record of 44 games set by Wee Willie Keeler when that little fellow was with Baltimore in the old National League in 1897. The only notable hitting streak of recent years was the 37-game skein compiled by Tommy Holmes in 1945.

"I was lucky and I'm not trying to be modest," DiMaggio said the other day. "A fellow must have every break in the book to enjoy such a run of good fortune. Manager Joe McCarthy and my teammates gave me plenty of help that year."

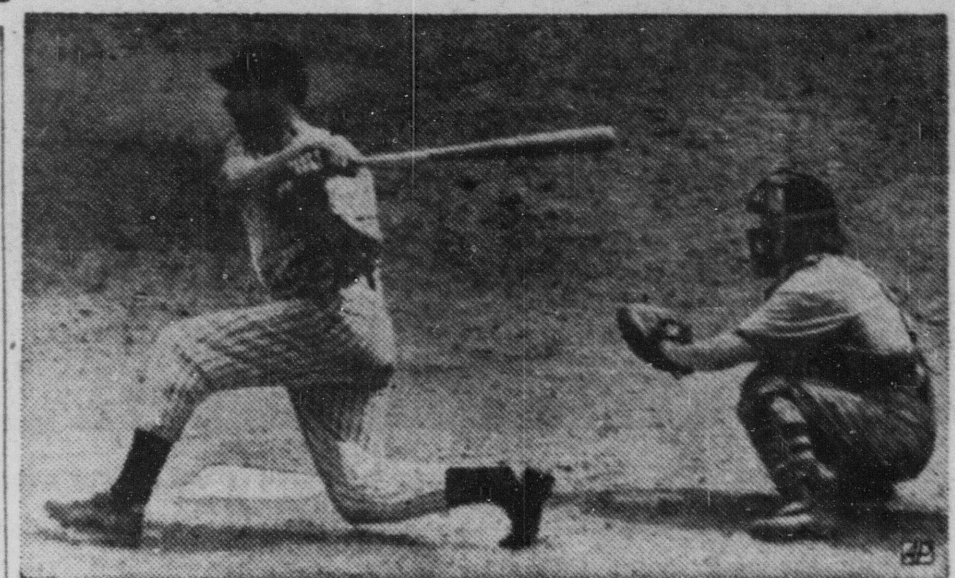

DI MAGGIO DIDN'T need a time at bat in extra innings to keep his streak going but he often went up for his final turn at bat before getting a hit.

"I remember one road game," recalls DiMaggio. "I went into the final inning without a hit and three Yankees had to bat ahead of me. If they all went out the streak was over."

"Red Rolfe opened with a single. The next batter flailed out. McCarthy gave Tommy Henrich the bunt sign. The only reason for a one-out bunt was to keep the inning alive so that I'd get up again. If the batter had hit away there was the possibility of a game-ending double play."

"HENRICH NODDED joyously at the command, and dropped his bunt. He was thrown out but I got my chance. I managed to hit a double. You would have thought we had just won the pennant."

"Rolfe, on crossing the plate, threw his cap high into the air. The players on the bench danced,

THIS IS THE JOE DIMAGGIO of 1941, the year he got his biggest thrill by hitting safely in 56 straight games. He is shown running his streak to 43 games against the Red Sox. Frank Pytlak is the catcher. Notice DiMaggio's wrist action and how his knee almost touches the ground on the follow through.

whistled and hollered. When I finally came in Henrich hugged and kissed me."

"You couldn't help but admire men like McCarthy, Rolfe and Henrich for their desire to help a teammate. It was one big DiMaggio got a big break the happy family playing with the Yankees."

The next day against Heber Newsome, a rookie who was to win 19 games for the 1941 Bosox, DiMaggio broke all existing records for hitting streaks by smashing a home run. But just before that blast his brother Dominic and Stan Spence had made spectacular catches to rob him of hits.

THE STREAK finally ended in a Cleveland night game against Al Smith and Jim Bagby. DiMaggio hit three on the nose that night but Ken Keltner, playing third base, made two miraculous stops and Shortstop Lou Boudreau also came in with a great play.

The tension was over. The next day the Yankees begged him to start another break. He just looked up and said "Hey!"

DiMaggio did hit the next day and the next and before they stopped him he had compiled another streak, this one for 16 games. In the meantime his roommate, Lefty Gomez, presented him with a humidor on behalf of all the Yankees. He still has the humidor on which appear all the 1941 Yankee signatures.

TOMORROW: That Boston comeback in 1949.

Pirates To Get First Look At Cincinnati Ace Blackwell

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Lucky Pittsburgh will get the first glimpse of the season today of Ewell Blackwell, the Cincinnati pitching ace who experts are predicting will be a 20-game winner this year.

The fans will be seeing a well-rested Blackie, too. Manager Luke Sewell shipped the raw-boned windmill out from Cincinnati yesterday to give him plenty of rest before today's game.

Blackwell has looked sharp, mighty sharp, during the exhibition season. That set the sports writers to chewing over his remarkable 1947 season, when he won 22 games (16 in a row) and lost eight. It was their opinion he looks every bit as good now as he did then.

HE WAS GOING ALONG fine last season when an attack of appendicitis seized him. He still finished with a 16-15 record.

The Cincinnati management well knows, however, that spring-time stuff may not mean that much. Redleg Hermie Wehmeier looked full of ginger in the don't-count contests but failed dismally as Chicago beat the Reds 6-5 on opening day.

Balding Kenny Raffensberger, the cute-stuff artist, made up yesterday for that first-day whipping as he southpawed Cincinnati a 3-0 revenge win over the Cubs at Crosley Field.

It was Raffensberger all the way and Katie-bar-the-door for Chicago.

BOBBY ADAMS SENT Raffy off to a good start as he slammed a home run in the first inning off Bruin Bob Kelly. Grady Hatton chipped in with another bases-empty wallop in the third into the rightfield bleachers. A walk, single and long out spelled run No. 3 for the Reds in the same inning.

Outside of a single by Hatton in the seventh, the Reds went hitless the rest of the way.

The Cubs got the same number of hits off Raffy—five—that the Reds got off Kelly, but theirs didn't add up to a run.

Kenny never was really in trouble, but his second base combination of Hatton and Roy McMillan smoothed things for him with a couple of fast double plays in the sixth and seventh innings.

Truman's Choice Wins Mock Race

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Like some polls of the past, Laurel's "Gallop Poll" was wrong.

Truman's Choice ran away with the presidential stakes at Laurel race track yesterday, six lengths ahead of I Like Ike and Taft, Nos. 1 and 2 in the "primary" voting.

The charity race, in which stable ponies ran with regular jockeys aboard, was a gimmick contest staged for benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy Fund. A contribution bought a vote and the results determined post positions.

bet on the charity run, but did plenty of rooting, watched jockey Ronnie Nash spur Truman's Choice home in 24.1 seconds, not bad time for a stable pony in the quarter mile sprint.

It got him an oversized key to the White House, a cake moulded like the nation's capitol and a big kiss from Actress Denise Darcel.

Stretched out behind Truman's Choice were Sen. Kefauver, Gov. McKeldin—Maryland's own favorite son candidate, said to have his eye on the Republican vice presidency—Taft, I Like Ike, Gov. Warren, Dark Horse, Sen. Kerr, Stassen and Sen. Russell.

Truce Talks On POWs To Reopen Tomorrow

MUNSAN (AP)—Allied and Communist staff officers, after a two-week recess, tomorrow reopen off-the-record talks on how to exchange prisoners of the Korean war.

There was no indication whether a break was imminent in the long deadlock over the Allied demands for voluntary repatriation.

Some observers, however, indicated a compromise formula was in the works. Both sides were believed to have spent the past two weeks overhauling prisoner rosters and bringing them up to date.

The U.N. command said it was ready for another try to break the deadlock. The Communists had pressed twice for speedy resumption of the secret talks.
